What are Estate and Trust services?

Based on your needs and objectives, you can choose how you want to work with us:

Corporate Executorship

A good estate plan and Will go a long way toward helping to ensure that your affairs are managed according to your wishes; the right Executor completes the picture. Discussing matters of death can be difficult and distressing, but with the right guidance, your peace of mind, and that of your beneficiaries, can be greatly improved.

You can appoint BMO Trust Company as Executor or Co-Executor, a wise choice if your estate requires in-depth investment, tax, and trust expertise. This choice might also be appropriate if you seek complete impartiality and the assurance that your Executor will be available to act at the time of your death and into the future.

Agent for Executor Services

It can be an honour to be appointed an Executor; it is also a significant responsibility which takes time and expertise to fulfill. Even if you do have the time and knowledge, carrying out your duties may be challenging if you live at a distance, especially in another province. Estate administration can also be very difficult when you are grieving for someone close to you, or if the relationship with or among the beneficiaries has become strained.

You might find it comforting to have the assistance of a professional to navigate the legal, tax, and administrative details of the estate. BMO Trust Company can help with their Agent for Executor services. You will deal with one professional who will work with your advisors to coordinate any legal, tax, investment, record keeping, accounting, and administrative services, helping to ensure that your responsibilities and obligations as Executor are met.

Insurance Trusts

An insurance trust is a trust funded by life insurance proceeds and established outside of and apart from one's estate. It can be an effective tool to provide tax savings to beneficiaries, maintain confidentiality and protect the assets from creditors.

BMO Trust Company provides professional services in the planning and administration of insurance trusts. You can appoint BMO Trust Company as trustee and receive professional trust management.

How does BMO Trust Company work with you?

Once BMO Trust Company has been appointed as agent for executor, executor or trustee, a dedicated estate and trust professional will become your single point of contact.
