An Investment bulletin prepared by Robin Kingsmill,

November 2018

My neighbour is having another garage sale. I am heading over to pick up a little Rembrandt!

With the volatility of recent weeks, several investors have felt the need to cash out. Nerves? Fear? Perhaps some have been preparing for the opportunities others have created in a clear out, leaving great bargains available to the canny investor.

Volatility doesn't have to be cause for deep distress. Look at your assets, holding their own. And well to the point: not missing their payments to you.

Perhaps this is a time to talk about bargains. What are we looking for? We look for that which the gamblers, the chancier investors find boring: solid assets with strong fundamentals and a reliable dividend or yield ... you know: the stuff of Own your Future™ In short: pearls dumped in a push for cash.

Would you like to talk about some of the bargains we have found?

Don't hesitate to call us!

Let's connect

Investors should read the Base Shelf Prospectus and applicable Prospectus Supplement and/or Pricing Supplement (collectively, the "Offering Documents") which set out the specific terms and risk factors associated with an investment in the Principal At Risk Notes carefully and discuss the suitability of the Principal At Risk Notes with their investment advisor before making any investment decisions. The offering and sale of Principal At Risk Notes may be prohibited or restricted by laws in certain jurisdictions. Principal At Risk Notes may only be purchased where they may be lawfully offered for sale and only through individuals qualified to sell them. For a copy of the applicable Offering Documents, click on the link above. Amounts, if any, paid to holders of Principal At Risk Notes will depend on the performance of the reference asset(s) described in the applicable Offering Documents. Bank of Montreal does not guarantee that holders will receive an amount equal to the amount invested in the Principal At Risk Notes and does not guarantee that any return or distributions will be paid on the Principal At Risk Notes (other than any minimum amount that may be stipulated in the applicable Offering Documents). Since the principal amount of the Principal At Risk Notes will not be guaranteed and will be at risk, holders may not receive any amount at maturity (other than any minimum amount that may be stipulated in the applicable Offering Documents) and holders could lose substantially all of their investment in the Principal At Risk Notes. Please see the Offering Documents for complete details, including the precise formula for determining the return, if any, on a Principal At Risk.
